What is SDA?

Specialist Disability Accommodation (SDA) refers to housing designed specifically for people with extreme functional impairment or very high support needs under the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

SDA properties must meet strict design standards set by the National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA) to meet varying accessibility and support requirements. They are thoughtfully designed to enable people to live with enhanced independence and access high-quality supports at home.

Homes includes accessibility features such as wide doorways, accessible flooring, and assistive technology such as automated doors and windows. The home environment be fit-for-purpose for every participant and their lifestyle.

SDA is defined by 4 key factors

DESIGN CATEGORY

This is the type of home design based on the accessible features that distinguish it from other builds.

BUILD TYPE

This is the dwelling layout, such as house, villa, or apartment.

ADDITIONAL FEATURES

These are the features of the home in addition to the design category requirements, such as fire sprinklers.

LOCATION

The area of the home. This influences funding levels, with factors like average land prices and available amenities playing a key role.

SDA Build Types

Houses

Homes for two-three participants with shared living spaces and common areas.

Apartments

One SDA compliant bedroom, sometimes with a second bedroom. Located on various levels in strata complexes.

Group homes

Homes for four or more participants with shared living and common areas. Multiple shared or individual dwellings on a block of land.

Villas

One bedroom villas with multiple shared or individual dwellings on a block of land.

SDA Design Categories

IL

Reasonable level of physical access and enhanced provision for participants with sensory, intellectual or cognitive impairments to enable greater independence in daily life.

FA

Incorporates a high level of physical access provision for participants with significant physical impairment promoting opportunities for enhanced independent engagement in daily activities.

HPS

High Physical Support

High level of physical access provision for participants with significant physical impairment who require very high levels of support. Homes include assistive technology and spacious design to create an environment that is intuitive to movement and support needs.

R

Robust

High level of physical access provision and very resilient building materials to reduce the likelihood of reactive maintenance and daily risk to the participant, members of their household and community.

What is SDA funding?

SDA funding is included in an eligible participant's NDIS plan. The NDIA determines the amount of SDA funding a participant will receive based on what it considers reasonable and necessary.

SDA funds are contribute towards the costs of a participant residing in a home which has been designed to cater to their unique support needs.

When a participant selects an SDA home that aligns with their SDA funding, they will sign an agreement with the SDA provider, allowing the provider to claim the funding directly from the participant's NDIS plan.

Unlike other funding in a participant's plan, SDA funding must be NDIA-managed and cannot be plan-managed or self-managed.

Reasonable Rent Contribution (RRC):
$250 per week approx.

In addition to the SDA funding claimed by the provider from the NDIA, a participant may be required to pay a Reasonable Rent Contribution (RRC) and contribute to the cost of supports received in their home.

These out-of-pocket expenses are separate from SDA funding and will be agreed upon separately with the SDA provider and support providers.

The maximum RRC a provider can charge is set by the NDIA and is updated every six months in March and September.

Who is eligible for SDA?

SDA is not the most appropriate housing option for all NDIS participants.

The NDIA use a specific criteria set by legislation to determine whether SDA is a reasonable and necessary support for a participant. These can include:

- Participants with a permanent disability
- Participants who have a housing goal in their NDIS plan
- NDIS Participation: You must be an NDIS participant.
- Extreme Functional Impairment or Very High Support Needs: This means you have a significant physical, cognitive, or sensory impairment that impacts your ability to live independently.

A participant's Support Coordinator can also help explore housing options and support in finding out which type of housing will enable a participant to reach their goals.

A participant will need to gather a range of information to support a housing application for SDA. Participants often request the support of an Occupational Therapist or other qualified clinicians who can support in completing an individualised Home and Living Supports Request Form and provide documentation to support an application.

The NDIA will use this information to review whether SDA is a reasonable and necessary support to include in a participant's plan, and if so, what build type and design category aligns best to their individual support needs and lifestyle.

Vera Living support participants in understanding the SDA journey, available housing options and specific supporting documentation which could be referenced in a report.

SDA Approval Process

If a participant does not have SDA funding in their NDIS Plan, they will need to complete the NDIS Home and Living Supports Request Form to determine whether SDA is the most suitable housing option for them. Vera Living can provide participants with information that may assist them in exploring housing options.

Appendix H Funding

What is Appendix H?

Introduced in the 2023–24 NDIS SDA Pricing Arrangements, Appendix H is a legislative change to enable participants to live with family members, partners or friends who are not funded or eligible for SDA.

What does Appendix H do?

This change allows participants to live with non-NDIS family members, partners or friends, and affects how much funding someone receives based on their living arrangements with another person.

It helps keep families and loved ones together and give participants greater choice and control through adjusting funding to enable them to live together.

Who can use Appendix H?

- SDA participants who have live-in family members who are non SDA eligible.
- SDA participants who want to live with non-SDA family members or partners

How Vera Living supports participants with Appendix H

Vera Living are proud to have supported families and partners to live together, working flexibly on a case-by-case basis to achieve the best outcomes for participants.

Step-by-step Process

1. NDIS Plan Approval

Your NDIS planner may have already approved Appendix H in your plan or discussed it with you during a planning meeting.

2. Exploring SDA Options

Vera Living will assist in identifying a suitable SDA home that meets your needs.

3. Quote & Pricing

Once a home is identified, Vera Living will provide a quote based on Appendix H pricing for your approved design category.

4. Tenant Contributions

Vera Living will discuss and negotiate additional rental contributions with any non-NDIS tenants you wish to live with, ensuring fair and sustainable living arrangements.
